Monday 11 April, 2011

08:45 – 09:20 Registration

09:20 – 09:30 Opening remarks

09:30 – 13:00 Archaeological and Geoscience Perspectives I

The aim of this session is to have a series of presentations and discussions that focus on the integration of archaeological and geoscience approaches and perspectives

Session 1: From Geoscience to Archaeology

Chair: Jan Harff

09:30 – 09:50

Henk Weerts & Hauke Jöns

How to arrive at an integrated overview of archaeological data and geoscience meta-data on submerged landscapes – ideas and first results

09:50 – 10:05

Francesco Chiocci, Fabrizio Antonioli, Elena Flavia Castagnano Berlinghieri

Collaboration between geoscience and archaeology: state of knowledge for the Italian coast

10:05 – 10:20

Henk Weerts et al.

Maasvlakte 2 (Port of Rotterdam), a showcase of interdisciplinary research on drowned landscapes

10:20 – 10:35

Dimitris Sakellariou

The Pavlopetri Underwater Geoarchaeological Survey: new results of a multi-national, multi-disciplinary survey based on the close collaboration between archaeologists, geoscientists and marine engineers

10:35 – 10:50

Valentina Yanko-Hombach, Olena Smytyna et al.

Geoarchaeological modeling of the Northwestern Black Sea region over the 27 – 7 ka interval: paleoenvironment and occupation mapping as an instrument for submerged prehistoric site prospecting:

10:50 – 11:05

Discussion

11:05 – 11:35 Refreshments

Session 2: From Archaeology to Geoscience

Chair: Dimitris Sakellariou

11:35 – 11:50

Arne Sjöström

Haväng, a submerged Mesolithic cultural landscape in the Baltic

11:50 – 12:15

Anders Fischer

- (a) Sea-level curves – the importance of near-shore cultural features and submerged forests
- (b) Principles and practicalities of shallow water settlement archaeology
